

Employer: Martin Family Farms

Position Title: Swine Production Internship

Location: West-Central Indiana

Position Description: Martin Family Farms is interested in training and developing talented employees. As part of this, we offer a Production Internship program geared towards students interested or actively pursuing higher education or a degree in Animal Science, or similar agricultural degree. The Production Internship Program is an opportunity that provides students with exposure to all areas of a medium sized Farrow to Wean Production Business. The internship program offers individuals a firsthand view of what goes into our different swine production systems. The program includes training, hands-on work experience, and professional development activities.

Participants in the Production Internship will spend time being exposed to different areas of pork production, including genetics, gilt development, sow breeding, farrowing and health strategies. In addition, students will have the opportunity to learn the essentials of the pork industry including: animal welfare, food safety, pork quality, neighbor and public relations, cost versus production decision making, environmental initiatives, and employee relations.

Pay: Competitive pay

Dates: Students must be able to commit to a minimum 8 week duration during the summer months and be willing to locate in the Boswell, Indiana area during that time.

Where to apply: Interested individuals can submit an application and resume online by visiting our company website at <http://www.teammartinfarms.com>

Requirements: Participants will be required to work Monday through Friday and possible weekend rotations.

For More Information: Melissa Bradford, HR & EHS, Martin Family Farms;
P: 765-764-4440 or E: melissabradford@teammartinfarms.com